

How to Join the Network

Joining our network begins with submission of the Provider Inquiry Form.

Note that this is a multi-step process:

- 1.) Network Adequacy Workgroup meets monthly to review provider inquiries for participation. You will be notified of the Workgroup decision.
- 2.) Based on network need, an invitation to join the network will be sent with a contract and request for credentialing application and documents. Once all documents are received, the verification process begins and usually takes about 6-8 weeks. Upon approval from the Credentialing Committee you will receive a welcome packet, which includes the effective date of participation in the network.

Practitioners must be contracted and credentialed prior to providing services to Stanford Health Care Advantage members.
